National Museum of Civil War Medicine,
48 E. Patrick St.,
Frederick, MD

Topic: Civil War correspondent Albert Gaius Hills of the Boston Journal

Between November 1861 and May 1862, Hills covered the Union campaign which resulted in the seizure of New Orleans for the Journal. Mr. Dyson transcribed and annotated Hills' own journals and reports of the campaign for his book, A Civil War Correspondent in New Orleans. Mr. Dyson will bring Hills' journals plus maps, newspapers and artifacts from Ft. Jackson for display. He will also have copies of his book for sale.

Gary Dyson is Design Engineer for Charles P. Johnson and Associates, a retired Environmental Specialist from the city of Gaithersburg, and a former Marine. He has a BS in Natural Resources from Oregon State University. Though never his avocation, history has always been his passion, from studying the great battlefields of American history to researching personal genealogies, and started a genealogy business. Reading and collecting historic newspapers is his latest hobby. He lives in Mount Airy with his wife and daughter. A Civil War Correspondent in New Orleans is his first book.

Our Annual Holiday Feast

We will have our traditional holiday buffet as part of the December meeting.

The Roundtable will provide drinks and the plates, cups, and tableware. Members are asked to bring a "snack dish" or a dessert to share with others.

PLEASE NOTE THAT THIS YEAR THE BUFFET WILL START AT 6:45. THIS IS BEFORE THE SPEAKER!

Next Month's Speaker

Our January speaker will be Rick Slade, the new superintendent of Frederick's own Monocacy National Battlefield. His topic is "Monocacy National Battlefield, the Sesquicentennial and Beyond."

The Prez Sez

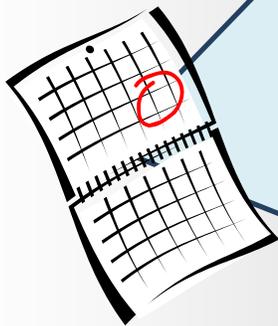

As you read this column your Thanksgiving is already several days in the past, and I hope it was joyful and satisfying for you and your family.

But, what about 150 years ago, what happened then?

Well, on Oct. 3, 1863, six weeks before the Gettysburg Address was delivered President Abraham Lincoln in an effort to boost the country's morale, knowing full that the great conflict was not over and many hardships were still ahead, designated the last Thursday of November as a national day of thanksgiving. He concluded his message to the country as follows.....

"...the last Thursday of each November shall be a day of Thanksgiving and Praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens"

Jack

At Last Month's Meeting...

At November's FCCWRT meeting, Frank A. O'Reilly, historian with Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania National Military Park spoke on "Fredericksburg: From Stonewall to Stone Wall". The 34 people in attendance enjoyed the thought provoking talk and more than one of us walked away with a changed opinion of General Ambrose Burnside!
