Prez Sez: Summer Message

With the beautiful, if rather hot, weather we have been having hope everyone has been able to start a great summer. It really looks like we are starting to come out of this pandemic and the world is opening back up. That includes many of our regional National Parks! Monocacy National Battlefield has opened just in time for the 157th commemoration of the battle. The visitors center is currently open from 9am to 5pm Thursday – Monday. Antietam National Battlefield is returning to normal operating hours and is pushing forward with their visitor center remodel. They will have a temporary VC open in July as well. Keep these, and our host the National Museum of Civil War Medicine, in mind when you start looking at finally getting back out into the world.

Speaking of getting out in the world, this previous season really let the Frederick County Civil War Round Table spread its wings, connecting with speakers as far away as Chicago and California. We want to be able to continue to do this on occasion in the future. With that in mind, to bring you the best in programming possible we may still occasionally have a meeting over the internet. Do not worry though, we are also anxious to see everyone in person and we will give you a significant heads up if our speakers intend to give their talks on-line.

Finally, with all the hard work the board went through in 2020 - 2021 I had to be reminded that we are actually all up for reelection this coming September. If you are interested in helping the board or taking on one of the leadership positions, let me know so that we can get your name on the ballot!

Most Sincerely,

*Matt Borders
President, FCCWR*
